In this early composition, signed Paris Oct. 1913, Ornstein chose to spell most notes with accidentals. But in a few instances he omitted them — leaving one to wonder whether the missing indications followed the normal mode of "carry within the measure" or were overlooked naturals. The reader must follow his own instincts in such cases.

Copyright 1990 by Poon Hill Press  S550-1